

THE GREYHOUND

PUBLISHED TRI-WEEKLY BY THE STUDENTS OF LOYOLA COLLEGE

Sec. 562 P. L. & R.
U. S. POSTAGE
PAID
PERMIT NO. 611
BALTIMORE, MD.

Vol. XV

Baltimore, Md., April 24, 1942

No. 10

Loyola Will Dedicate Service Flag

FRANK BROWN, '40, NAVAL RESERVIST, DIES IN CRASH

Former Loyola Student Had Been Stationed Aboard Aircraft Carrier This Year.

Last Saturday morning, April 18th, word was received by Mrs. Norman V. Waltjen, from the Navy Department in Washington, that her son, Ensign Frank Snowden Ridgely Brown, USNR, Loyola

ENSIGN FRANK S. BROWN

'40, had died in a crash at sea on April 9, 1942. The Navy Department, in extending its deepest regrets to the family of Ensign Brown, stated, that due to existing conditions, the ship was unable to stop and the body was not recovered.

Enthusiastic Flyer

Frank Brown, the second Loyola alumnus to die because of the present conflict, and the first to be killed in action, was the perfect example of the true Loyola gentleman. For his quiet and unobtrusive manner, his easy conversational flow, his adeptness in making sincere and lasting friendships, one could only respect and admire him,

LOYOLA OFFERS TEN SCHOLARSHIP AWARDS

Loyola College is offering to senior high school students ten scholarships valued at $400 each. The scholarships will be awarded to those students who receive the highest grade in an examination to be held at Evergreen on Saturday morning, May 9th, between 9 and 11 A. M.

Any senior high school student in Baltimore is eligible to compete in the examination provided he receives the recommendation of his principal. The subjects of the exam will include a psychological aptitude test, and a test in English composition, algebra and plane geometry.

Application blanks may be obtained from the registrar of Loyola College or from the various high school principals and should be returned to Loyola College before Saturday, May 2nd.

TELEGRAM FROM THE NAVY DEPARTMENT

April 10, 1942

To Loyola College,
Baltimore, Md.

The Navy is proud that your college has undertaken our V-1 plan for training Freshmen and Sophomores as Officer material. Please tell your young men, who apply for enlistment and training under his plan, that they will be serving the nation if they continue their college courses, no less than those of your Alumni, who are already in active service. The Navy knows your institution and your V-1 students will do their part.

(Signed) Frank Knox,

Secretary of Navy.

this handsome young man of twenty-three who met his death in the performance of his duty.

A product of Loyola High School, Frank's activities here at Evergreen stamped him as one of the foremost members of the class of 1940. Flying was in his blood, and he was among the first in the city to enroll in the CAA when it opened its flying courses to college

(Continued on Page 8, Col. 4)

SECRETARY KNOX APPOINTS LOYOLA A V-1 COLLEGE

Freshmen And Sophomores Given Opportunity To Advance To V-5 And V-7 Courses.

Secretary of the Navy, Frank Knox, has officially notified Loyola College of its designation as a V-1 college. To be approved as a V-1 college, an institution must not only be accredited but must also give courses which the Navy deems necessary for its prospective officers, viz., Mathematics, Physics and Physical Education.

Freshmen and Sophomores

To be eligible for enlistment in class V-1, students must be unmarried citizens of the United States, between seventeen and nineteen years of age inclusive, and members of either the Freshman or Sophomore class of an accredited college. This program, newest of the Navy's plans for providing trained personnel for our expanding fleet, is destined to become the only means of entering the V-5 and V-7.

The Navy will accept the voluntary enlistment as Apprentice Seamen (V-1) of not more than 80,000 men per year. When a V-1 man completes approximately one and one-half calendar years of his college work with academic grades

(Continued on Page 6, Col. 4)

THORNHILL NEW CHOICE FOR PROM, MAY 13TH

Band Will Make First Baltimore Appearance In College Gym.

Forced by circumstances to alter their initial plans, the Junior Prom Committee recently announced the signing of Claude Thornhill and his orchestra for this gala spring-time event on May 13th. It was originally announced by the committee that Woody Herman would furnish the music. However, the Juniors' contract and advance payment on the band were returned, when the Paramount Theatre in New York took up an option they had with Herman and signed him for a two week personal appearance beginning on the date of the prom. In commenting on the change in bands, August O. Hennegan, class president, stated, "This change is considered a rather fortunate one by the class, for this will be the initial appearance of Thornhill in Baltimore and his only college appearance in the east this spring."

Direct From Paramount

The Thornhill aggregation will come to the Evergreen Gym direct from the Paramount Theatre in New York where they have been engaged for a two week personal appearance, starting April 29th. Immediately following the prom, they will open their third engagement at the famed Glen Island

CATHERINE L. HOFFMAN
Prom Queen

Casino at New Rochelle, N. Y.

Rated as one of the finest names in the younger generation of band-leaders, Claude Thornhill was formerly arranger for some of the greatest names in the orchestra business. Among those with whom he worked as arranger and pianist were the late Hal Kemp, Benny

(Continued on Page 7, Col. 3)

CAPTAIN HARRY BALDRIDGE, USN, LISTED AS PRINCIPAL SPEAKER

On Sunday, May 10th, Loyola will stage its annual Parents' Day Celebration. At present, plans are being formulated to make this day one of city and state-wide importance. The program lists an address by a prominent navy official, the raising of a service flag, presentation of a plaque to Loyola by the Order of Alhambra and a psychological symposium delivered by Loyola juniors and seniors.

According to the Rev. Edward B. Bunn, S.J., President of Loyola, the speaker will be Captain Harry Baldrige, U.S.N.,

Alhambra Secretary

G. ALFRED PETERS, JR.

CAMPAIGN OPENS FOR LEADERSHIP OF COUNCIL

Juniors Nominated For Posts Of Presidents Of Council And Athletic Society.

The opening gun has been fired! Once more the campus will be the scene for rallies and speeches as candidates vie for the positions of President of the Student Council and President of the Athletic Association, respectively, of Loyola College.

Nominations for the two offices closed on April 15th and were announced on the 17th. Petitions, which required seventy-five signatures, had been feverishly passed among the students as the initial step toward the official nomination, and with the announcement of the close, four men were designated as candidates for the Student Council office. They are: James K. McManus, George Miller, Bernard Muth and William Thater. Those nominated for the athletic post are: John M. Burns, Bernard Goldberg, Daniel Lucchesi, Eugene Miles, Francis Mueller and James O'Hare. All men are of the class of '43.

Requirements Strict

The requirements for the successful candidacy are indicative of the caliber of men represented. Each man's name was approved creator of the Naval Academy Museum at Annapolis. Capt. Baldrige's address will be delivered at the base of the flagpole directly in front of the Science and Library buildings. It will be given in conjunction with the raising of a Loyola College Service Flag, which is to be flown under the American flag.

(Continued on Page 8, Col. 2)

Gold Stars for Deceased

The huge Service Flag will contain close to 200 stars, one for each Loyola man—alumnus or student—who is a member of the armed forces, whether on active or inactive duty. This means that the Navy V-5 and V-7 students, who have enlisted in the navy, but are being allowed to continue their college work, will also each be represented by a star in the flag. In addition, there will be two gold stars, one for Ensign Frank S. R. Brown, '40, USNR, the other for Harry L. Rogers, Ex-'43, who have both given their lives in the cause of their country.

Alhambra Gives Plaque

Following these ceremonies, the Alcala Caravan, the Baltimore unit of the Order of Alhambra, will present a plaque bearing a bas-relief medallion of Bishop John Carroll of Baltimore, the first bishop of America.

The Order of Alhambra is a nation-wide fraternal organization, drawing its members exclusively from the Knights of Columbus.

(Continued on Page 6, Col. 3)

AIR CORPS ENLISTED RESERVE ORGANIZED

As a result of collaboration between high ranking officers in the U. S. Army Air Corps and college officials acting as advisors, a new program to procure enlistment in the recently formed Air Corps Enlisted Reserve has been announced. This new plan is to be considered as a part of a new Army Enlisted Reserve Corps Program about which particulars will soon be made public. This plan will provide opportunities for enlistment on a deferred service basis in other branches of the army and a continuation of college work by men so enlisted. It is important to note that it is intended that students enlisted on this deferred service basis shall complete their college course. Upon graduation or earlier call, the reservists will have opportunities to compete for vacancies in Officers' Schools.

THE GREYHOUND

LOYOLA COLLEGE

Vol. XV Baltimore, Maryland No. 10

Editor-in-Chief
George Wm. McManus, Jr., '43

Assistant Editors

Friedrich L. Dewberry, Jr., '43 George J. Miller, Jr., '43

Sports Editor

James K. McManus, '43

News Editor

Joseph L. Huesman, '43

News Staff

William S. Dashi, '41 Frank B. Lambie, '44
John G. Bricker, '41 Thomas B. Lawrence, '43
Joseph A. Burns, Jr., '43 Maurice P. Mackey, '41
Robert L. Chartrand, '41 Edmund J. McGraw, '43
Thomas H. Connor, '43 William T. Meizbower, '41
Jero O. Haudill, '41 Harold A. Molz, '41
Charles F. Hennell, Jr., '43 John J. Pugh, '43
Francis N. Kearney, '43 Walter B. Slivinski, '43

Advertising

J. Carroll Feeley, '43

Editorial

Daniel H. Ballou, '41

Gerard T. Connolly, '44

W. Thorn Peters, '44

Staff Artists

Weston H. Emmart, '44

Charles S. Lerch, '43

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY

National Advertising Service, Inc.

College Publishers Representative

420 MADISON AVE. NEW YORK, N. Y.

CHICAGO • BOSTON • LOS ANGELES • SEATTLE

Published Tri-weekly by the Students of Loyola College

Subscription: One dollar

MARY AND WAR

Particularly for Loyola Men, the War adds tremendous meaning to this May. Next Friday will be the first day of that month, traditionally marked by our devotion to the highest privileged human person ever born—The Virgin Mary, Mother of the God-Man. Yes, war makes blood, sweat and tears. But Mary knew them well. She watched her Son being crucified. Now, war has invaded our life. Our future is uncertain. Our plans seem disrupted. Whether we are working under the accelerated war-time college course, ready to enter the Navy or Army, or whether we are doing our job in a defense plant, we need a spiritual incentive in order to exert our best and most efficient effort.

No greater, stronger, more comforting incentive could we have than to be intimately associated with Mary in our spiritual life; and to act each day upon the principles which characterized her life—sacrifice and service. No one has greater influence with God than Mary. No greater intercessor could we have in obtaining eternal friendship with God than Mary.

Whatever our work in this period of uncertainty, we can do it better if we ask Mary for her assistance. On the battle field, we will be sons of Mary, brave-hearted men, worthy of brotherhood with Christ. We are sure Ensign Frank Brown, '40, killed in action this month, was accompanied by our Blessed Mother in the hour of his death.

As Loyola students, we have a glorious opportunity to manifest and to increase our friendship with Mary. Beginning next week, each and every Loyola student will gather, at noon-time, in front of the campus statue of Mary to praise her name. For too many of us, it will be our last participation in this Loyola tradition. Let's make this May a lasting memory.

THIS PARENTS' DAY—

No one should miss Parents' Day at Loyola on May 10th. Students, alumni, parents and friends—everyone—is invited. The Loyola College Service Flag will be raised beneath the stars and stripes. Amidst nearly two hundred stars representing Loyola men in the service, there are already two gold stars: one for Harry L. Rogers, ex-'43, USNR, killed last August; the other, for Ensign Frank S. Brown, '40, USNR, killed early this month. Captain Harry Baldrige, U.S.N., will be the guest speaker. Our glee club and orchestra will provide good music.

The Alcala Caravan, Baltimore unit of the Alhambra society, will present a Bishop John Carroll plaque to Loyola College. Then, there will be a symposium of most unusual interest. Something with which most of us are not sufficiently acquainted. A demonstration of the freedom and development of the human will to be presented by our philosophy seminar.

Here is a marvelous opportunity to honor all Loyola men who are in our Country's military service. Some present students have already been accepted by the Navy, Army, and the Marines; the sight of the celebration will inspire them. It will incite their belief that America and Americans are well worth fighting for—even if it means death.

News In Brief

An article, entitled "Nature's Color Pageant", by Father Joseph A. Didusch, S.J., professor of Biology at Loyola, appeared in the latest edition of the Bulletin of the Natural History Society of Maryland. Most of the eleven illustrations accompanying the article are photomicrographs and represent original work in plant pigmentation.

Victor I. Cook, Sr., an alumnus of Loyola, and the father of Frederick C. Cook, ex-'44, now a cadet in the Army Air Corps at Maxwell Field, Alabama, died on April 8th. Mr. Cook was a lawyer, and was well known and liked in Baltimore business circles. THE GREYHOUND extends its condolences.

Rev. Richard B. Schmitt, S.J., addressed the Chi Rho chapter of the National Pharmaceutical Society at a banquet held at the Southern Hotel, on Wednesday, April 15th. The subject of his talk was, "Use of Micro-Analysis in Modern Chemistry."

Fr. Martin C. D'Arcy, S.J., who has been a guest at Loyola for several weeks, has returned to England. The lectures which Fr. D'Arcy gave, while in this country, are now in the process of being published.

The United States Civil Service Commission is now seeking Junior Chemists to perform research, investigate, or do other work in some branch of Chemistry. The positions pay $2,000 a year. No written test is required. Applicants' qualifications will be judged from their experience, education and training.

Application forms and further information regarding this and other opportunities open to chemists in the Federal Government may be obtained at first and second-class post offices through out the country.

The Very Rev. Edward B. Bunn, S.J., president of Loyola, spoke to the Kiwanis Club of Baltimore, on Wednesday, April 15th. He acted as substitute for Fr. D'Arcy, when the latter made his sudden departure for England. On the following Wednesday, he addressed the Towson Kiwanis Club.

John D. Schmidt, '40, was married on April 11th, and spent his honeymoon in New York. He is now living at the Northwood Apartments.

William J. Schmitz, Jr., '40, also took unto himself a bride about the same time as his former classmate.

Congratulations to Mr. Charles M. Cohn, an alumnus of Loyola College, who was recently appointed president of the Consolidated Gas and Electric Light and Power Co. of Baltimore.

Father Richard F. Grady, S.J., moderator of the Drama Course at Loyola, announced that due to Loyola's accelerated course in co-operation with the war effort, it will be impossible for the class to produce an original musical comedy for 1942. He pointed out, however, that the class is now reviewing the year's work in preparation for a one-act play contest, the complete nature of which is not yet determined.

John J. Pugh, '43, was unanimously elected President of the Washington region of the N.F.C.C.S., on Sunday afternoon, April 19th, at Dunbarton College, Washington, D.C.

Last Tuesday afternoon, in the College Library, Dr. Alexander O. Gettler, toxicologist of New York City and the most outstanding chemist on crime detection in the country, addressed a large gathering of students from Loyola and neighboring institutions on the chemical means of detecting alcohol in the human body and the place of the toxicologist in crime detection.

The Reader's Right

To the Editor of THE GREYHOUND:

Dear Sir:

As you know I subscribe to THE GREYHOUND and its most recent copy was forwarded to me. There isn't a day that goes by that I don't think of school and make plans. I have ideas by the dozen, it seems, and someday I hope to put them into effect. THE GREYHOUND carried several articles that really held my interest. Naturally for me the success of the Athletic teams was the highlight...but I liked the other news also. For instance, the schedule of the debating team was great...for the names of Catholic U., Villanova, Princeton, Hopkins, Virginia, etc. are really well-known and I think that Loyola benefits by competing with them. You and I know that Loyola men can hold their own with any of them if given the chance. Again, I was glad to see about the meeting of the various dramatic societies at Evergreen. I also got hold of a copy of the New York Times, and though it was a couple of weeks old it was still comparatively new. In it I saw where Jimmy Russell and Hank Steingass competed in the Eastern Collegiate Swimming meet at Yale. I like to see such good advertising for my school.

Please give my best to all at Loyola and when I come back I want to be just about your most active alumnus.

Sincerely yours,

Eugene Bracken, '41, USNR

Cold Spring Murmurings

By GEORGE J. MILLER, JR., '43

The Rector was introducing J. Carroll Feeley to Father McGonigle. "He looks innocent but you have to watch out for him."

Once in a while something happens, which makes a priest feel that all of his efforts are not wasted. Once in a while some hardened old But to get to the point, sometimes retreats do get results. For instance, the night after the recent senior retreat, Gerard John Crowley of the Boston Crowleys was seen crawling between the snowy-white sheets of his trundle-bed at the tender hour of 9:45. (P. S.—He didn't have to be helped either.)

Special intra-office communique to Jim McManus. When asked to write a news story the other day, Mouse Kearney replied, "Heck, I'm not a writer, I'm a sports man."

UNCONVINCED

Two summers ago, Joe Huesman and Frank Horka were working at the Crown, as Loyola boys like to do during those hot summer months. On one particular day, they had been loading a boxcar with boxes (sounds logical doesn't it) and were "fairrrr tired out". However, it seems that the foreman had to know just how many boxes were in each boxcar. Knowing how most of you fellows like to travel, we presume that everybody knows what a boxcar looks like and are cognizant of the fact that it is regular in its dimensions. Well, Frank was struck by this fact, too. So to facilitate matters, he suggested that they should merely lay out one row of boxes, the width of a car and pile up one row—count the number of boxes in the pile and the number across—multiply and find out how many boxes were being shipped (simple, isn't it—well, so was the foreman). He couldn't see how it could work (after all he'd been workin' there longer than these squirts and he'd never done that before). Nevertheless Frank proceeded with the plan, arriving at a total of 75. The foreman was adamant—they'd have to pile up just as many boxes as were in the car and count them.

The boys grudgingly set to work. The job completed, the foreman started to count: 1, 2, 3, 4 . . . 50, 51, 52 . . . 73, 74, 75. Frank had been right. The foreman turned, glared balefully at Frank and sneered, "Lucky."

PSYCHIC?

When the Social Science Club made their tour of the State Pen (I don't know how to spell penitentiary), one of the inmates accosted George Ayd with, "It's a nice day out, isn't it?"

FEUD?

Scene 1. THE GREYHOUND office. Early evening.

The editor to the moderator: "Have you got any ideas?"

Scene 2. THE GREYHOUND office. Later the same evening.

The moderator to a certain assistant editor: "Geo-orrge, get your work done. Don't let him (the editor) bother you."

The worm replies: "I can't ignore him. After all, he's the boss."

Ye Olde Mod.: "Yes, you can ignore him—everybody else does."

Epilogue: The worm turns.

FR. GRADY ADDS CLASSIC RECORDS

Dual Program Features Concerts. Students Urged To Select Desired Compositions.

Fr. Richard Grady, S.J., who has been directing the program of musical appreciation at Loyola College, has announced that the repertoire of recorded music at Loyola has been enlarged. In conjunction with this announcement, he has submitted a comprehensive list of music now available at the request of the students. The newest of these are works by Mahler and Bruckner.

New Music

In his interest to stimulate a greater musical consciousness at Loyola, Fr. Grady, having expended a great deal of his time and energy urges that the students make requests for the music they wish to learn. To further advance this course the scene of the Thursday afternoon concerts has been changed to the faculty lounge and a new phonograph machine has been purchased for the greater pleasure of the listeners. In addition to this, music desired by the students will be included in the buying lists, if it does not appear in the school's collection.

For those who desire more than a passive listening knowledge of music, Fr. Grady is conducting a special class in Musical Appreciation every Monday at 8:10 A.M.

JENKINS DEBATING SOCIETY NEARS END OF ACTIVE YEAR

Gettysburg College, American U. And Fordham Debaters Visit Evergreen; Frosh Lose To New Yorkers.

With only two more inter-collegiate debates remaining on their schedule for this year, the Jenkins Debaters have been rounding out an active season with two debates with American University of Washington, a home engagement with Gettysburg and a debate with the Fordham Freshmen last Friday evening.

American U. On Schedule

Robert Chartrand and William Dinsmore represented the Society in a debate on March 9th, against Messrs. Harrison and Bosein from American University who upheld the affirmative of the question, Resolved: That there be a universal draft for all able bodied male citizens between the ages of eighteen and twenty-one. It was a non-decision contest. The return debate at Washington on March 26th was conducted in the Oregon style, and found Messrs. Joseph Krejci and John Kennedy defending the affirmative of the same question for Loyola.

Meet Gettysburg and Fordham

On March 27th, Gettysburg College sent their Freshman team to Loyola for a return contest on the military training issue. Messrs. Chartrand and Dinsmore took a negative stand against Messrs. Williams and Ferrari, the visiting debaters.

Last Friday night, April 17th, the Jenkins Debaters were hosts to Charles Mattingly and James O'Malley of Fordham, in a discussion of the same question. Messrs. Chartrand and Dinsmore, negative proponents, lost the decision to the Rams. Critic judge for the occasion was Mr. Edward Farren, S.J., debating coach of the Bellarmine Debating Society of Loyola High School.

Student Pictorials

(This is the second in a series of word-snapshots of outstanding men of Loyola)

JOHN V. K. HELFRICH

John V. K. Helfrich, III, popularly known as "Jack" or "JayVee", is indeed a character. A strange combination of genius and madman, he is equally at home in a philosophy seminar or stretched out full length on the cafeteria floor, applying a flaming torch to the inside of some unfortunate's best pair of shoes. Perpetually chuckling deeply at something or other, Jack can find something funny in the most serious situations. A humorist at heart, he revels in the writing of Cold Spring Murmings during his term as Assistant Editor of The Greyhound. His year-long feud with "Earl of the Kaff" will long live in the memory of Loyola students.

On the serious side, Jack is just as capable as he is in the humor field. Member of the debating society, book reviewer on the Evergreen Quarterly, and founder of the Accounting Academy, he is also a member of the champion "All-Stars" of the intramural softball league. Concerning this last activity, Jay-Vee is quite proud, as witness his statement, "I am the only man at Loyola with the courage to face Vic Bock's pitching, bare-handed".

Along with four other seniors, his outstanding efforts were rewarded recently when he was admitted to Alpha Sigma Nu, national Jesuit honor fraternity. Besides the activities mentioned above, Jack is also Assistant Editor of the Senior Year Book.

Election Of Officers By Alpha Sigma Nu

Robert J. Bachman Chosen President Of Newly Created Chapter.

Loyola's Chapter of the Alpha Sigma Nu, the National Jesuit Honor Society, recently held its first election. Those elected to office in the newly formed unit were: President, Robert J. Bachman, '42; Vice President, Donald J. Schmidt, '42; Secretary, Thomas J. Thaler, '42; and Treasurer, John V. K. Helfrich, '42. The Loyola Chapter was represented at the National Convention of the Alpha Sigma Nu, held in Detroit, April 17 and 18, by the President, Robert Bachman.

The selection of three additional members by the Rev. Edward B. Bunn, S.J., from the present senior class is forthcoming and will probably be announced early in May. Juniors are also eligible for membership in the Society, and will be selected for scholarship, loyalty, and service to the college.

CASIMIR M. ZACHARSKI

Tall, possessed of a ready wit, Casimir M. Zacharski has thus far compiled an enviable record during his sojourn at Loyola. The most recent recognition accorded him was the nomination and election to the honorary Jesuit fraternity, Alpha Sigma Nu.

Scholastically, "Zach" ranks among the best, as he has failed on but two occasions in four years to be included on the Dean's List of Distinguished Students which is published quarterly. Lest anyone think him one-sided, it is interesting to note the many extra-curricular activities which hold his attention. Beside the excellent editorial work he wrote for The Greyhound before giving way with his classmates to the present staff, he holds the office of secretary in the Bellarmine Debating Society as well as taking part in many Glee Club festivities. A violinist of no mean ability, "Zach" is included in the ranks of the revitalized orchestra.

Easily recognizable by his languid gait and ever present wisp of hair hovering over one eye, Casimir Zacharski with all of his accomplishments is no stranger to the underclassmen. Instead, he offered to more than one freshman sanctuary from the over zealous members of the sophomore class during the "hazing" period. In keeping with his easy-going manner, "Zach" just "couldn't see those poor fellows suffer."

Professor Shenton To Speak To Math Club

Geometric Stereograms To Be Subject Of Lecture On Friday, May 1st.

Geometric Stereograms will be the topic of Professor Walter F. Mueller Shenton's lecture before the Mathematics Society at their next meeting, Friday, May 1st, at 3 P.M.

Professor Shenton, of American University, is a pioneer in the study of geometric figures by using stereoscopic or "three dimensional" pictures. His talk on this subject before the Mathematical Association of America, at their December meeting held at Georgetown, was enthusiastically received.

On Display

In a letter received by Dr. Francis L. Celano, society moderator, Professor Shenton says the stereograms are now on display at a Science Show at American University. As a result, he says, they will be in excellent order for their showing here.

FORMER TEACHERS WILL BE ORDAINED

Ceremonies Of Ordination To Take Place At Woodstock College On Sunday June 21st.

Two former Loyola College teachers will be ordained priests of the Society of Jesus this June 21st when Rev. Vincent C. Hopkins and Rev. Joseph A. Cawley will complete their studies at Woodstock College. Both of these Jesuits taught at Loyola during the year 1938-39 before leaving for Woodstock. Mr. Hopkins is a native of Brooklyn, N. Y. He graduated from Brooklyn Prep in 1929 and then entered the Society of Jesus in September of the same year. He began his graduate studies in medieval Latin at St. Louis University and in theology at Woodstock. His first solemn Mass will be said at the Church of Our Lady of the Angels in Brooklyn.

Was Student at Fordham

Joseph A. Cawley, S.J., was born at Archbald, Pa., and attended the Archbald High School and St. Thomas High School in Scranton, Pa. He then went to Fordham University before entering the Society of Jesus in 1932. While at Loyola, Mr. Cawley taught chemistry. His first solemn Mass will be celebrated at the Church of St. Thomas Aquinas in his native city.

HORKA REELECTED NFCCS PRESIDENT

Federation Honors Loyola Junior For Second Straight Year; Elected Unanimously.

For the first time in the history of the National Federation of Catholic College Students, a national president was re-elected to a second term of office. Frank E. Horka, '43, of Loyola College, received the unanimous vote of the regional delegates assembled in Philadelphia on Sunday, April 12, 1942. Twenty delegates, representing 60 colleges were present at this meeting of the National Council of the Federation. Mr. Horka was the sole nominee for the presidential office, as a result of his fine record during the past year.

Convene at Rosemont

The convention opened on the preceding afternoon at Rosemont College, with the appointment of the nominating committee. On Sunday, the group moved to Villanova College, where the election took place. Delegates from the leading Catholic Colleges from the East Coast to the Mississippi were present. The Washington Region of the Federation, to which Loyola belongs, was represented by John J. Pugh, '43, of Loyola College and Miss Dorothea Tewes of Notre Dame.

SAMPLE BALLOT

(This is a sample of the Official Student Ballot)

PRESIDENT OF THE STUDENT BODY

(Vote for only one)

| | | | |
|---------------|--------------------------|----------------|--------------------------|
| James McManus | <input type="checkbox"/> | Bernard Muth | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| George Miller | <input type="checkbox"/> | William Thater | <input type="checkbox"/> |

PRESIDENT OF THE ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

(Vote for only one)

| | | | |
|------------------|--------------------------|-----------------|--------------------------|
| John M. Burns | <input type="checkbox"/> | Eugene Miles | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| Bernard Goldberg | <input type="checkbox"/> | Francis Mueller | <input type="checkbox"/> |
| Daniel Lucchesi | <input type="checkbox"/> | James O'Hare | <input type="checkbox"/> |

Student signature

Authorized by:

Frank J. Ayd, Jr., '42

President Student Body.

120 Burke Ave.
Towson

Phone
Towson 778

For the best in music CLAUDE THORNHILL
For the best in Flowers

Geo. W. Radebaugh Sons

Growers of Cut Flowers
Corsage Specialists

25% DISCOUNT
on night of Prom

Agents: Arthur Casey
Carroll Feeley

Tossers, Stickmen Set For Week-End Tilts

GREYHOUND NINE FACES MOUNTIES THIS AFTERNOON

Hopes Of Retaining Championship Hinge On Outcome. Hounds Improve In Batting.

Loyola's hopes of retaining the Mason-Dixon Conference Baseball Championship will undergo a crucial test this afternoon, when the light hitting, inexperienced Greyhound nine engages Coach Wally Opekum's Mt. St. Mary's tossers at Emmitsburg. In the usual fashion of all Greyhound-Mountaineer struggles, no love will be lost and each team will go all out for victory.

So far this season, Loyola's attack strength has been notable by its absence. In their losses to Syracuse, Humpden-Sydney and American, the Greyhounds showed up very well defensively, but were weak at the plate. With this additional experience, however, the green Greyhound squad has displayed improved batting strength, and is expected to be at its peak against the Mountaineers.

Mount Strength Unknown

The Mountaineers were established as the "dark horse" in the Conference when they upset Hopkins last week. Their attack is built around Bill Flaherty, hard-hitting third baseman and veteran of three campaigns. Maycock, Lee and Walsh give the Mount a strong, well balanced pitching staff. The Blue and White squad has experience and depth and can cause the opposition many anxious moments.

A welcome addition to the undermanned Loyola pitching staff is Clifford Robinson, who has shown marked improvement and should prove a capable relief hurler. John Pick and Ed Pozorek are primed to go against the Mountaineers and Frank Mueller and Babe Schwilkenberg are expected to provide batting support.

Linksmen To Play Georgetown Today

Capt. Jim Downey Will Lead Veteran Squad At Glen Echo Course.

Loyola's improving golf team faces its toughest assignment of the campaign this afternoon when the linksmen of Georgetown University are met in a dual match over the Bannockburn Country Club course at Glen Echo, Md. Led by Captain Jim (Mort) Downey, the Greyhound golfers to face the Hoyas at 3:00 P. M. include Bill Moran, low-scoring sophomore, and the consistent juniors, Charley Pfeil and John Michael Burns.

After being soundly trounced by Virginia two weeks ago on the Cavaliers' home course, the 'Hounds have improved their game steadily, and showed considerably better form yesterday against Western Maryland. Chief objective of the season is, of course, the winning of the Maryland State Championship in the annual collegiate tourney held at Hillendale. Objective number two is the Mason-Dixon Conference crown, to be decided in the Conference Tournament at Westminster.

EMMART VIEWS THE BASEBALL OUTLOOK

SAILORS TOP GREYHOUNDS

Last Saturday, a greatly improved Loyola lacrosse team dropped a close decision to the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis. The Sailors, led by Frank Brady, a former Loyola High School athlete, who scored four goals, downed a stubborn Greyhound club 12 to 8, and the game was even closer than the four goal advantage indicates.

After a poor first half, the Greyhounds, to the surprise of the spectators, carried the struggle to their opponents. That they outscored Navy in the second session can be credited to the good condition of the Loyola boys.

Keller Is Outstanding

Captain Dick Keller had his best game of the season, scoring four goals and displaying his usual fine brand of field generalship, directing play from the center position.

NETMEN OPPOSE MT. ST. MARY'S

Team Seeks First Conference Win. Return Of Veterans Gives Squad Full Strength.

This afternoon the Green and Grey tennis team will journey to Emmitsburg to meet Mount Saint Mary's in its second Mason-Dixon Conference match. Led by the Thaler brothers, the Greyhound racquetters will endeavor to regain lost ground in the Conference race and equal the great records of the Loyola tennis teams of recent years.

Results Disappointing

On their recent trip into Virginia, the tennis squad bowed to Humpden-Sydney, 9 to 0 and to Randolph-Macon, a conference foe, 6-3. On this trip, the team was without the services of Tim and Larry Thaler and Joe Kreeji, whose work kept them at home. In spite of the absence of the key players the team gave a satisfactory performance.

(Continued on Page 5, Col. 5)

for nearly fifty-five minutes of the game. Outhome Cory Walker also showed up well figuring in five goals, tallying one and assisting in four others. Bobby McElroy, who absorbed his customary beating at first attack, scored two goals on very well executed shots. Midfielder Don Connor was credited with the remaining point.

Navy's Team Plays Good

The Navy team displayed a well balanced attack with excellent backing up of passes and shots. They kept the ball moving constantly and more than half of their tallies were made from outside screened shots with a notable lack of scoring plays. Fast breaks and superior reserve power made up the difference between victory and defeat. As a whole Navy was not greatly superior to Loyola. They merely played a rougher game.

Improvement Shown

Since the first match against Springfield the squad has steadily improved with each game and the weak spots have gradually been ironed out. The attack has become a better balanced unit and several underclassmen have shown great promise including Freshmen Jim Mann, Bob Connor and Hayes Kernan. In last Saturday's game the team gave a pleasing performance and showed the results of

DOPESTER'S DEN

Three wins, no losses last time, fans. The old average is on the rise again. Two issues to go, and plenty of tough ones on tap.

Here goes again:

Loyola to beat Mt. St. Mary's (Baseball)
Villanova to swamp Western Maryland (Baseball)
Maryland to top North Carolina (Baseball)
Western Maryland to edge American U. (Tennis)
Loyola to down Mt. St. Mary's (Tennis)
Georgetown to trample Loyola (Golf)
Dopester's Record.

| W | L | Per |
|----|----|------|
| 43 | 15 | .742 |

constant practice.

Guests of The Academy

After the game the team was invited to stay for dinner and in the hour's time before the meal the players walked around the grounds or as quite a few did, took a walk over to Carvel Hall to work up a good appetite.

| Score by periods: | | Loyola | |
|-------------------|--|---------|---|
| Navy | 3 | 6 | 0 |
| Loyola | 0 | 4 | 1 |
| Goals: | Brady (4), Gummerson (3), Carter (2), Blair (2), Ochenrider. | Loyola: | Keller (4), McElroy (2), Walker, D. Connor. |
| Substitutes: | Navy: Close attack, Gummerson, Woolen, Belt; midfield, Eaton, Pench, Emerson, Aubrey, Ochenrider; goal, Emerson. | Loyola: | Close attack, Boucher; midfield, Kernan; close defense, Connolly; goal, Kernan. |

SENIORS, JUNIORS TOP 'MURAL LOOP

Vic Bock, All-Star Twirler, Strikes Out Fourteen; Fall Champs Undeclared In League.

Rounding into the home stretch, the Intramural Softball Leagues have taken on definite shape, with each loop producing one team apparently far above the class of the other competitors.

In League I, the McDonough-less All Stars, fall champions, have experienced little trouble in annexing their victories to date. Vic Bock, hefty hurler for the Senior team, has baffled the boys handily with his speed-ball performances. In a recent game with the Junior Thin Men, Bock struck out fourteen men in five innings of play.

The Junior Polish Legion, who have been a power in the Intramural loop since their entrance at Loyola, are far in front of the pack in League II. To date, the Legion has averaged nine runs per game.

(Continued on Page 5, Col. 4)

LOYOLA TEN PLAYS FINAL HOME GAME AGAINST W. & L.

Keller, Boone, Miles & Siwinski Start Last Tilt At Evergreen At 3 P. M. Tomorrow.

If the Loyola lacrosse team can pick up tomorrow where it left off last Saturday, the visiting Washington and Lee Generals are in for a busy afternoon. The game, slated for 3 P.M., here at Evergreen, will be the last home appearance of the season for the Greyhounds, and should they win, their record will be boosted over the .500 mark.

The game also marks the last home game of four Green and Gray regulars. Dick Keller, center, and Bill Boone, close defense, both of whom have been on the starting ten for the past four years, will graduate next June, and Buddy Miles, midfielder, and Walt Siwinski, goalie, will receive their degrees next January.

Successful Season

The lacrosse season, to date, may be termed a successful one, since the games have gone just about as expected—although the team was anxious for an upset over Navy last week. Springfield gave the 'Hounds somewhat of a scare in the opener, when Loyola was forced to come from behind in the late stages to eke out a 10-9 triumph, but the Indians' high score may be laid to the fact that an injury to Siwinski in practice forced the inexperienced Hayes Kernan to jump into the breach, and though the freshman midfielder played as well as could be expected under the circumstances, he was unable to stop the majority of shots aimed at the net.

Terrapin Avalanche

Next on the schedule were the runners-up for the National Open Championship, the University of Maryland. This time, the Greyhounds' lack of reserves played a large part in the 18-5 setback handed them, while the Terps' mentor, Jack Faber, used almost three squads against the Green and Gray. Nevertheless, Loyola benefited from the tilt to some extent, since it gave Coach Jack Kelly a chance to shift his defense into the most effective combination.

Lehigh Victory

The following game was classed as pretty much of a question mark at the outset of the season, but the 'Hounds came through in fine style to hand the Engineers a 12-1 defeat. Siwinski was at his best in this contest, stopping seventeen of the eighteen shots that came his way. Then, last week, Loyola ran up against an always tough Navy outfit, and came out on the short end of a 12-8 score. Except for a weak second period, when the Sailors poured in six goals, the Green and Gray far outplayed the Middies. Walker and Keller starred on the attack, and had the Loyola defense been a little sharper, the game might well have gone to the Greyhounds.

Leading Scorers

In the four games to date, Keller and Walker have been the bulwarks of the Evergreen ten's offense, the speedy center having racked up eleven goals, with the southpaw sophomore close-attack

(Continued on Page 5, Col. 4)

Running With The Hounds

by
JIM McMANUS

The infant of Loyola's sport family is growing up at last. Track, started and stopped several times within the past few years, is now firmly established at Evergreen. In place of the usual ten or eleven candidates, forty students are now practicing daily. Jumping pits have been dug, new high jump standards have been purchased, and javelins, shots and hurdles are all available for practice. Last Saturday, in a dual meet at Hopkins, the Greyhounds scored 37½ points in losing to the Jays. Against the same team last spring, Loyola scored a grand total of 8 points. Credit for the meteoric rise of the track sport at Loyola belongs to two sources. The first, and by far the greater reason is the enthusiasm and work of one man, Mr. James E. Gallico, S.J., former Fordham dash man, who has single-handedly molded the green group of candidates into a team. In addition to coaching the team, Mr. Gallico also raked the track and dug the jumping pit himself. His spirit and enterprise should certainly be an inspiration to the boys on the squad, when they take the track at Franklin Field in Philadelphia tomorrow.

Secondary credit must go to the Freshman class, one of the most active classes to hit Loyola in some time. Practically all of the point-getters on the team come from Freshman year, and other frosh show great promise for the future.

Latest outgrowth of the track boom is the First Annual Intramural track meet, to be held on the afternoon of May 21. This promises to be one of the most interesting intramural events in some time. Anyone can run, and as many students as wish may participate in every event. So let's have a real turnout for this last event of the Loyola intramural sports year.

Recently, Jack Kelly walked into the lacrosse locker room, handed a letter to one of the boys, asked him to pass it around and left the room. I wish I could have seen the expression on each boy's face as he read the letter. I read it myself later, and it was well worth the time spent. The writer was Cadet Noah Walker, USNR, who will be remembered as one of the standout players on last year's lacrosse squad.

We won't attempt to quote exactly from the letter, but in substance, this is what it said:

Fellows, I've got something to tell you. Last year at this time, I was right where you are now. Now, I'm learning a new way of life. I've learned a lot of things here at Jacksonville, but about the most important thing I've learned is something that may help you out. It's about teamwork.

When I played for Loyola, I'll admit that now and then I may have thought a little more about Noah Walker than I did about Loyola. I think we all did now and then. But when I came down here, I learned something. If a fellow has a heavy date and no clean shirt, a perfect stranger down the hall will lend him his, and think nothing of it. When a fellow washes out of the school, you can find his buddies in a corner somewhere, talking quietly, with real tears in their eyes, over a fellow they didn't even know up until a few months ago. That's the kind of thing that goes on all the time down here, and believe me, there's something to it. Forget your petty grievances when you get out on that field, and all pull together to win for Loyola.

And one more thing, fellows. Remember this. When you're on that field, your opponents are your enemies; so don't ease up until that ball game is over, and you've won it. There's only one thing that matters on the field, and that's victory. This may sound like a lot of sentimental bunk, but believe me, it's the truth. That's all I wanted to say, so I'll close with best wishes to everybody at Loyola.

Yours,
Noah.

P. S.—Beat the heck out of Navy Saturday.

That's the letter, fans. I think there's something to it. What do you think?

Where the gang meets
MULRY'S
4229 York Road

Compliments of the Institution Department of
THE MAY CO.

TRACK UNDERGOING REVIVAL THIS SPRING AT EVERGREEN

HOPKINSTOPS VARSITY

Bucking top-notch Mason-Dixon competition in their first dual meet in several years, Loyola's tracksters dropped a lop-sided 79½-37½ tilt to Johns Hopkins University last Saturday at Homewood. The Green and Grey clung to the heels of the fast-flying Jays in every track event placing men among the top three in every cipher test save the 220 yard dash.

Freshmen Clayton McKenny and Jim Ball upset favored Blue Jay entries by copping firsts in the half mile and the two mile events. The biggest surprise of the afternoon came in the form of Dick Clark, freshman sprinter, who pushed Brunlage, the Hopkins dash wizard, to a blazing 10.2 in the hundred against a strong wind. Clark, running with a leg swathed in bandages, surprised the gallery by leaving Hank Siegel, another highly-touted Jay sprinter, several yards astern.

The Greyhounds were notoriously weak in all field events save the discus and shot-put. The fans were treated to the sight of familiar faces in new garb with many of the recent basketball champs girding the spiked shoe to compete in field events. Vic Bock, Barney Goldberg, Bernie Thobe, Charley McCollum, and Joe Repetti are all new track aspirants representing the hoopster's contingent.

SUPPORT LACROSSE

Loyola Vs. W. & L.

Tomorrow 2:30 P. M.

Quantico Bound

Loyola will prematurely lose three seniors on May 11, when John C. Hyle, Donald J. Schmidt and Bernard G. Thobe leave for the Marine Officers' Training School at Quantico, Va. There, upon the completion of intensive physical and mental training, they will receive their commissions as Second Lieutenants in the United States Marines.

John Hyle, studying for a B. S. degree, is the huge, heavily bearded lad who will be remembered for his excellent portrayal of one of the devils in the Rev. Richard F. Grady's production of "Cenodoxus". For the past year he has been acting as lab assistant in Loyola's physics laboratory.

Don Schmidt, a Ph. B. student, is the jolly, rotund fellow who is seen constantly passing out laughs to his associates. While at Loyola he has been president of dramatics and the speaker's bureau, secretary of the history academy and treasurer of the Student Council.

Bernie Thobe, accounting student, is the tall, speedy center on Loyola's champs of the Mason-Dixon Basketball Conference. Bernie has been looping them through the hoops since his early days at Southern High. Good luck fellows! The Marines need more men like you.

'MURAL MEET CARDED

A Loyola College rapidly becoming track conscious will have a chance to test its mettle on the cinder path and jumping pit as Coach Gallico and Jim McManus complete plans for an intra-mural track and field meet. The date is tentatively slated for May 21, and competition will be held on an inter-class basis, each year entering as a team.

The running events included in the program are the 100 yard dash, a 220 yrd sprint, the 120 high hurdles, the 220 low hurdles, the half-mile, and a one mile run. Field events will be limited to running broad jump, high jump, shot-put and discus.

All prospective intra-mural tracksters are requested to get entry blanks from Jim McManus or in the athletic office. All Varsity men are ineligible and will be used as officials in the meet.

LOYOLA TEN PLAYS FINAL HOME GAME

(Continued from Page 4, Col. 5)
man, right on his heels with ten. Bob McElroy and newcomer Don Connor follow, with seven and four tallies, respectively. All in all, the team has shown a much better offensive than ever before, and with games with Washington and Lee, Hopkins, and C.C.N.Y., ahead on successive weeks, this might well be the best season ever to be experienced by any Loyola lacrosse team.

SENIORS, JUNIORS TOP 'MURAL LOOP

(Continued from Page 4, Col. 4)
to one for their opponents.

Individual stars of the league have been Lenny Lewandowski, smooth-fielding, hard-hitting outfielder of the Polish Legion, Bill Schoeberlein, Freshman flash, Barney Goldberg, Junior long-distance litter, and "Skeets" Feeley, steady shortstop of the second-place Thin Men.

Students Visit Penal Institution

Social Science Club Tour
Includes City Jail.

The Maryland Penitentiary and the Baltimore City Jail were visited by the Loyola Social Science Club in accordance with its policy of intimately studying the sociological problems discussed in class. On Tuesday, March 10, thirty-two members accompanied the Moderator, the Rev. Joseph J. Ayd, S.J., professor of Economics and Sociology, who, excluding three years service in another city, has been the Catholic chaplain at both institutions since 1919.

Prison Life

After the group was counted, to eliminate the possibility of acquiring new members enroute, various phases of jail life were shown, including the separate building for the women prisoners. Then the penitentiary, a city within a city, was toured to the extent that the students were impressed by the fact that the "pen" is nearly self-supporting.

GREYHOUND NINE BOWS TO EAGLES

Thirteen Errors Afield Cause Of Poorest Showing Of Season.
Mueller Hits Homer.

A Loyola team, which failed to hit in the pinches and performed spottily afield, fell before the slants of Rube McNab, American U. pitching ace, Tuesday afternoon. In absorbing their second loss in as many weeks at the hands of American U. the Greyhounds made their weakest showing of the young season. Pitcher Ed Pazourek's wildness and thirteen Loyola errors combined to make a weird but exciting ball game.

Close Contest

For the first six cantos the Greyhounds battled the Eagles on even terms. The visitors counted twice in the first on Newby's double and Pazourek's error. Loyola knotted the count on Dunn's hit and an error on Schwullenberg's grounder. American went ahead with three runs in the third but Tewey, Williams and Hennegan hit and scored on an A.U. error.

Schoeberlein Fails

In the seventh, the Eagles clinched the game with two runs on one hit and two errors. Frank Mueller inserted a home run into the fray in the eighth. With two outs the Greyhounds loaded the bases but Will Schoeberlein struck out to end the inning and kill the rally.

Hal Newby provided hatting punch for the Eagles with two timely doubles. Gus Hennegan and Frank Mueller sparked the Loyola offense.

A. U. 2 0 3 0 0 1 2 1 1—Hr 00, the Loyola 2 0 0 0 0 3 0 1 0—Hr 30.
Pitchers: McNab and Shepherd; Pazourek and Hennegan.

NETMEN OPPOSE MT. ST. MARY'S

(Continued from Page 4, Col. 2)
tory showing even with several players who met college opposition for the first time.

Back Into Harness

The team is now practicing daily and sharpening up for the remaining games of the schedule. They hope to redeem their record and go on to win the Conference Championship.

AN OPEN LETTER TO ALUMNI

April 20, 1942.

Dear Grads:

On Wednesday, May 13th, the Junior Class of Loyola College will present their Promenade. Claude Thornhill and his twenty-one piece band will supply the music.

I am taking this means to invite you to attend. Although you are no longer at the school, I think you will find many friends at the dance, and will consider it an evening well spent.

Thanking you for your cooperation, I am,

Sincerely yours,

A. O. HENNEGAN,
Junior Class President.

BOOK REVIEWS

JOHN J. PUGH, '43

Graham Greene has certainly confused the Catholic reader with his latest novel, The Labyrinthine Way. It is impossible to discern from an objective study of the book whether the man is a Catholic, giving expression to some of the bigoted notions prevalent among those who know nothing about our religion, or whether he is actually one of their number.

The book, in brief, concerns the story of a priest lost in the persecution of Communist Mexico. It tells of his trying life under constant peril and his extreme difficulty in keeping to the straight and narrow path of true priestly virtue. Finally, it deals with his tragic death before the firing squad of the materialistic yet spiritualistic mob of revolution-torn Mexico. The question O.S.C. is concerned with even in the last paragraph, is whether or not a high degree of personal sanctity is required of our priesthood in order to fill their Christ-given mission. We are introduced to a minister of God wallowing in all the muck of a morally degenerate society, in which he takes a conspicuously degenerate part. And how does that influence his ministry? If we accept what seems to be the only explanation for the introduction of the boy Jim and his small family into the story, the inconsistent little man ended a successful career by his sudden death in spite of his "whisky priest" reputation.

In these pages you will meet a man who undertook voluntarily a struggle, for which he was less equipped than most of us are, and who at worst won a draw with Satan. The weak character is undoubtedly disgusting, but so pitiable that he brings a cold fear to our souls that we too might very easily fall into the same state under similar conditions, which may not be so far away. The truth of the implication that a man's personal character, particularly that of a priest, need not exert such a deciding influence on his work is by no means easily disproved from the objective facts of the book. In this, it is a typical production of modern times. It settles issues solely by implication, leaving always that uncertainty, that looking for some cri-

THE LABYRINTHINE WAY—By Graham Greene. Viking Press, New York, 1940.

GLEE CLUB SUBMITS FINAL RECORDINGS FOR CONTEST

After many intensive rehearsals, the Loyola Glee Club made its final recordings which are now entered in Fred Waring's National College Glee Club Competition. The members of the Glee Club met at Station WFBK in Radio Centre on Monday, April 13th, and made several trial recordings under the expert technical advice of Mr. Galu. When a satisfactory effect was achieved, the actual contest recordings were made. They were "Loch Lomond," "Visions," and "Alma Mater, Loyola."

Presents Radio Program

Last Tuesday, April 21st, the Glee Club presented a quarter-hour program from Station WFBK beginning at 2:45 P.M. In addition to the group renditions, a solo number was presented by William Plummer, senior Baritone.

At present the Glee Club is rehearsing for the Baccalaureate Mass which it will sing in June.

terion of infallible judgment, so prevalent in novels of today. Our hope is gone. We are living in a real world governed by the principles of unreality. Where are we going? Our present day authors seem not to know. This story is inconclusive enough to find a place in that same category.

Yes, and this book, which may bring down opprobrium from all sides in defense of our clergy, might much more profitably call up a realization on their part that such a character is quite possible and a determination not to allow such weakness, even under a much disguised form, to creep into their own lives. It serves only to emphasize the power contained in that word "Father" and the obligations assumed by those who answer the call.

For a final stand on the question, we agree with the implications. We sympathize with a man so tossed about by passions and point to the fact of his unquestionably retained influence as a proof that priests are always but tools in the hands of God. Who are we to decide what means He shall use to further His own ends? Could not the little good this man accomplished have been the reward of a merciful God for the tiny spark of devotion that kept him fighting for years in so withered a vineyard?

John Steinbeck has produced a unique dramatic "novel" in his latest, The Moon Is Down, the invasion chronicle of hapless Norway. We refuse to grant it the unqualified title, novel, because all the action takes place either in the dialogue, or in accompanying gestures—obviously made to order for stage production. The story provides the answer to the question of how a democracy can conquer a dictatorship even while in the throes of defeat. The book requires hardly more than a half hour's reading and is worth the effort if for nothing else than the clear character distinctions which are drawn even within the generally considered orthodox ranks of the "invader". A person with a grain of imagination can read the story and receive all the effect of seeing it produced on the stage.

THE MOON IS DOWN—By John Steinbeck. Viking Press, New York, March, 1942.

MENDEL CLUB HEARS TALK ON HEREDITY

On April 1st, Mr. Herbert Baer, '43, lectured to the Mendel Club on "Chromosome Plotting." The topic was an unusual and most difficult one to present. The speaker pointed out just what goes to make up a chromosome and how important they are to the life of each cell. The question of genes, those little bodies that are so important in passing on hereditary characteristics, was given special emphasis by Mr. Baer.

Through the use of many illustrations, the lecturer soon cleared up many problems in the minds of the assembled gathering.

Meeting Next Week

Next Wednesday at the regular meeting of the Mendel Club, Mr. Eugene F. Wisniewski, '43, will address the members on a topic never before presented at a Club meeting. The subject of his talk will be "Sex Predetermination."

ALHAMBRA ORDER TO GIVE PLAQUE

Loyola College To Be Presented A Bas-relief Medallion Of Bishop John Carroll.

(Continued from Page 1, Col. 5) bus. One of its primary purposes is the marking of sites of outstanding achievements of Catholic clergy and laity. In accord with this, many impressive monuments have been erected in places throughout the entire country. Loyola has been selected for its splendid work in contributing capable, educated Catholic gentlemen to the country.

In Maryland the Order has erected a tablet to Cardinal Gibbons, a monument to Father White, S.J., and a memorial to Bishop John Carroll at the site of his first charge, St. John's Church in Forest Glen. All of these were sponsored by the Alcala Caravan of Baltimore. Supplementing its historical work, the Caravan also engages in charitable, humanitarian work. A year ago it presented eight oxygen inhalator units, two to each of the Catholic hospitals in Baltimore.

Alumni Members

Many prominent Loyola alumni are members of the Baltimore Caravan. Among them are Gov. Herbert R. O'Connor, George P. Welzant, Vice Grand Commander of the Caravan, Lingard Whiteford, Isaac S. George, Congressman John A. Meyer and G. Alfred Peters, Supreme Scribe of the Order of Alhambra.

The plaque that will be presented to Loyola is a replica of the medallion of Bishop Carroll on the monument at Forest Glen. It is two feet in diameter and mounted on a polished mahogany disk, bearing a plate with an appropriate description. The plaque was executed by James R. Howard, Jr., a Baltimore artist and sculptor.

Representing the Order at the presentation will be Louis A. List, Grand Commander of the Alcala Caravan; Thomas J. Quinn of Philadelphia, Supreme Commander of the Order of Alhambra; George J. Klopfer, Buffalo; Rev. T. M. Cooney, Philadelphia; Joseph A. Dougherty, Wilkes-Barre; Dr. Ignatius Byrnes, New York; Joseph M. McKenna, Washington, D. C.; and John M. Miller of Baltimore. Either Mr. List or Mr. Quinn will present the plaque.

Psychological Symposium

Preceding the ceremonies on the campus, students will entertain in the gym. The Glee Club is scheduled to open the afternoon's proceedings at four o'clock with the singing of the National Anthem. The orchestra will render several selections and then members of the Philosophical Seminar, conducted by the Rev. Joseph Donceel, S.J., will present a psychological symposium on the "Human Will". Thomas J. Thaler, '42, will act as chairman. A group of seniors, consisting of Nathan Canter, John V. K. Helfrich and Casimir M. Zacharski, will demonstrate the freedom of the human will. The junior group, consisting of Herbert R. O'Connor, Jr., Charles F. Hemelt and Frank E. Horka, will then trace the development of the human will.

PRIZE DEBATE SET FOR MAY 8th

Senior Debating Society To Close Season With A Debate On Labor Union Control.

Loyola's Senior Debating Society will hold its annual Prize Debate on Friday afternoon, May 8th in the college library. The topic for the debate is, "Resolved that the Federal Government should regulate by law all Labor Unions." Try-outs were held this past Wednesday, April 22nd. This function will close a highly successful season for the senior debating society which has debated some of the outstanding universities and colleges in the east.

On Saturday night, April 18th, the debating society was host to the debaters from North Carolina University. George Baker, Jr., '43, and C. M. Zacharski, Jr., '42, represented Loyola and very capably defended the affirmative side of the question on Labor Unions. After the debate an informal dance was held in the recreation room in the gymnasium.

Discussion with Toledo

An exceedingly interesting and successful round table discussion was held Tuesday night, April 14th between the University of Toledo and the debating society of Loyola College. The topic discussed was the question on Labor Unions. Messrs. Kallenbach, Thaler and Barrett of the senior class and Mr. McCollum of the sophomore class represented Loyola.

Secretary of Navy Appoints Loyola V-1 College

(Continued from Page 1, Col. 3)

satisfactory to the college, he will take a comprehensive general examination of the objective type prepared by the Navy Department.

If a student ranks sufficiently high in the comprehensive examination, and meets the physical requirements, he will be permitted to finish at least two calendar years at college before being transferred to the V-5 program for training to be an officer pilot. Approximately 20,000 V-1 men will be selected yearly for transfer to class V-5 for aviation cadet flight training.

Of those who pass the comprehensive examination with the best grades, about 15,000 per year will be transferred to V-7 enlistment status and will be allowed to finish their college course in an inactive duty status. Upon graduation, the entire number will be given Reserve Midshipman training leading to a commission in the Naval Reserve. They will be retained in class V-7 as long as they maintain satisfactory academic standards and as long as the exigencies of war permit.

Those not selected for transfer to classes V-5 or V-7 will be permitted to finish two calendar years of the pre-induction training program of the college which they attend and then will be called to active duty as apprentice seamen. They will be sent to naval training schools for naval recruit indoctrination and ordered to general service in an enlisted status.

Saga of Jazz

THOMAS B. CONNOR, '43

I would like to call your attention to a news item in TIME magazine of this past week in the section entitled "Music". The article centered around this one statement: "Last week Manhattanites had their fourth chance of the season to hear jazz—authentic, impromptu jazz—in the plush seats of Town Hall". To many of you this may mean nothing at all, but nevertheless it is certainly a strong indication that jazz music may finally receive the recognition of which it has so long been unjustly deprived. Again, it also serves to bring out a point which has been one of the most powerful factors in keeping music lovers aloof from hot music.

Origin of Misconception

Ever since its inception in the late 19th century, jazz has always been associated by most people with the more vulgar and indecent side of life. How did this idea originate? We must remember that hot music was born and nurtured in the bosom of the Negro race. Most of us know the early conditions that existed in the South as to the treatment of the Negro at this time, so there is no need of repeating them here. Many of you have, no doubt, read at one time or another of their crowded living conditions, poor education, and loose moral practices. Probably the worst section in this regard in the whole South, the "hot-bed of corruption" as it is often referred to, was New Orleans—the birthplace of jazz. In the dens and dives of Basin Street and Canal Street, hot jazz was first given to the world as a new musical form.

When these disreputable resorts of New Orleans were closed by a government decree in 1918, jazz was also forced to move out. Up to this time New Orleans had been the only section where the jazz artist could make a living and still play as he wished. As these pioneers migrated up the Mississippi river and spread out over different sections of the country, they were greeted for the most part with the same amount of coldness and looked upon with same disdain as they had been by the "educated" classes of New Orleans. Even when the white jazz musicians became leaders in this new musical language, they too were called drunkards and drug hounds. Why? Just because a few of these jazz artists had fallen into low states of life, therefore all the hot musicians must be of the same loathsome nature. What brilliant logic!

Regeneration Foreseen

A few years ago this "veil of vulgarity" that has hidden jazz from the serious-minded music world was lifted somewhat when jazz concerts were held in Carnegie Hall. They met with some success and were certainly the beginnings of a new life for hot jazz. More positive indications of this fact were given a few weeks ago when a series of eleven bi-weekly jazz programs were arranged for New York's Town Hall this spring. Last week's concert (cf. TIME, Apr. 20th) at Town Hall was not essentially different from those that blared forth from the dives of New Orleans three decades ago. There was, however, a tremendous difference in the audience and their surroundings. Whether they appreciated and enjoyed it as much as the gatherings on Basin St. did years ago, only time will tell.

Telephone: UNIVERSITY 3500

GEO. J. STORCK & SON
LUMBERSash, Doors, Blinds, Flooring, Wallboard, etc.
2406-15 GREENMOUNT AVENUE

ALUMNI DOINGS

BY EDWARD A. DOEHLE, '31

ALUMNI DOINGS once more pays tribute to the members of the Association serving with the armed forces of the United States! The following is a list of Alumni members known to have joined the services since our original list was published. Many more are known to have applied, but no word has been received at the College as to their present status. Your Alumni Editor will appreciate any information that will help us to bring our files up to date. All such information will be published through this column.

| | | |
|--------------------------|----------------------------------|---------|
| Baker, Maurice E. | U. S. A. Air Corps | Ex. '40 |
| Bloom, Paul | U. S. A. Air Corps | Ex. '43 |
| Bolesla, Chester F. | U. S. A. | '34 |
| Baone, R. Sanchez, Jr. | 2nd. Lieut., U. S. A. | Ex. '31 |
| Brown, Charles | U. S. A. | Ex. '43 |
| Bollen, William J. | 2nd. Lieut., U. S. A. | '28 |
| Cappelletti, Alfred | Corp., U. S. A. Air Corps | '39 |
| Cook, Frederick C. | U. S. A. Air Corps | Ex. '41 |
| Coon, John Henry | U. S. A. | '33 |
| Crown, Francis J. | 1st. Lieut., U. S. A. | Ex. '37 |
| Deise, Maurice V. | U. S. A. | Ex. '43 |
| Donnelly, Joseph V., Jr. | U. S. A. | '28 |
| Dyer, Frank P. | Ensign, U. S. Coast Guard | '36 |
| Gantler, Thomas M. | U. S. N. | '39 |
| Hunt, Eugene E. | U. S. N. R., Naval Academy | '41 |
| James, Arthur L. | Corp., U. S. A. Air Corps | Ex. '42 |
| Jendrek, Edward | U. S. A. | '40 |
| Jones, F. Shriver | 1st. Lieut., U. S. A. | Ex. '36 |
| Krahn, Harry W. | U. S. A. Air Corps | Ex. '42 |
| Lanahan, John D. | U. S. A. | Ex. '35 |
| McClure, Edward J. | U. S. A. Air Corps | '38 |
| Mellonough, Francis J. | U. S. A. Air Corps | Ex. '42 |
| McFadden, Joseph | U. S. A. | Ex. '43 |
| McGee, John A. | U. S. A. | Ex. '42 |
| McGinnan, Austin | U. S. A. Air Corps | Ex. '42 |
| McGrain, Thomas | Corp., U. S. A. Air Corps | Ex. '42 |
| McQuade, Cornelius | U. S. A. | Ex. '45 |
| Miller, Francis H. | U. S. Coast Guard | '39 |
| Rebber, Joseph | 2nd. Lieut., U. S. A. Air Corps | Ex. '43 |
| Russell, James D. | U. S. A. | Ex. '40 |
| Schell, William P. | Technical Sergeant, U. S. A. | Ex. '36 |
| Schell, James | U. S. A. | '39 |
| Scholz, Louis A. | 2nd. Lieut., U. S. A. Air Corps | '40 |
| Schuppert, John E. | U. S. A. | '41 |
| Stakem, Thomas C., Jr. | U. S. A. | '32 |
| Thaler, William | 1st. Lieut., U. S. A. Med. Corps | '31 |
| Watson, Joseph A. | U. S. A. | |

LOUIS J. O'DONNELL, '29

ALUMNI DOINGS salutes Louis J. O'Donnell, Bachelor of Arts of the Class of 1929! The Editor of the "Green and Gray" of that year proved himself a true prophet when he indicated a brilliantly successful journalistic career for the young writer. Today the name of Louis J. O'Donnell ranks high among the leading political writers of the country.

During his years at Loyola College, Mr. O'Donnell had his entry into newspaper work as part-time employee of the then Baltimore American. In college he was largely responsible for the revived interest in the student publication, THE GREYHOUND. Upon graduation in 1929, he joined the staff of the Baltimore Sun. Today, after twelve years of service he has become one of the outstanding political writers of that paper, contributing signed articles on all important political developments.

More recently the fame of Mr. O'Donnell has become national through an investigation resulting in the uncovering of the fact that ten thousand new machine tools ritally necessary for national defense were in the possession of the National Youth Administration in various parts of the United States. The importance of this discovery has led to rumors of a possible Pulitzer Award.

HORKA ADDRESSES N.C.E.A.

On April 7, 8, and 9, the National Catholic Educational Association held its annual convention at the Stevens Hotel in Chicago. Loyola was represented by the Rev. Lawrence C. Gorman, S.J., Dean, and Frank E. Horka, '43. The opening meeting was addressed by His Excellency, the Most Reverend Samuel Alphonsus Stritch, D.D., Archbishop of Chicago.

Frank E. Horka, in his capacity as President of the National Federation of Catholic College Students, addressed the group on April 9th. This was the first time in the entire history of the Association that a student while still at college has spoken to its assembled members. Mr. Horka pointed out the opportunities the N.F.C.C.S. offers Catholic students to coordinate their efforts towards the common goal of unity of purpose and action in this time of war.

PROM FEATURES THORNHILL'S BAND

(Continued from Page 1, Col. 31) Goodman, Skinnay Ennis, Andre Kostelanetz, Ray Noble, Bing Crosby, Judy Garland and Morton Downey. He is credited with the discovery of Maxine Sullivan, whom he helped to recognition with an arrangement of the Scottish song Loch Lomond, with which she has been identified ever since.

Forms Own Band

January, 1940, saw the premiere of Thornhill's own band at the Hotel Pennsylvania in New York. Ever since, music critics and public alike have been raving about this "different" orchestra. Following this opening, the new band spanned the entire country to play successful engagements at both the Rendezvous Ballroom in Balboa, California and the Mark Hopkins Hotel in San Francisco.

Thornhill's debut at the Glen Island Casino in March 1941 was so successful that he was held for three months and booked to return late in August. This second engagement was even more successful, extending for over four months, and he was booked for the summer of '42 before he was given a release to go on his current theatre and dance tour. During this second appearance a complete Mutual schedule was added to his regular CBS broadcasting schedule. The Thornhillmen have also been featured on the "Fitch Bandwagon" program, and engaged for six broadcasts on the "Spotlight Bands" series, their most recent being last Friday night.

Feature Duo

Featured with the orchestra are soloists, Lillian Lane and Dick Harding, and Martha Wayne and Buddy Stewart, a vocal duo formerly with Glenn Miller.

Tickets have been on sale for over a week now and may be obtained from any member of the committee. The advance sale is $4.40 and admission at the door will be $5.50. The drawing of the winners in the Junior Prom Ticket Raffle will take place sometime this afternoon.

See our weekly ad in the Baltimore Catholic Review

REX THEATRE
4600 York Road

STUDENTS FAVOR THE LATEST IN READING

Popular Magazines Draw Interest Of Students In All Years.
Scholarly Magazines Are Scarcely Noticed.
Seniors Lead School In Reading.

"Do not read good books, life is too short for that; read only the best", says Ernest Dinet. But even some of the best seem destined to escape the average Loyola student if the number of books he borrows from the college library is any indication of his reading habits. For, according to a recent report issued by the library, the number of books taken out by students during the first semester, 1941-42, ranged from 4 by the average freshman to 2.2 by the average senior. And this report includes books on the required reading list. (However, it must be kept in mind that home and public libraries supply the needs of some students.) Senior A.B. heads the list with an average of 6 books per man, with the Junior A.B. a few pages behind at 5.1 volumes. Not to be outdone the faculty managed to borrow an average of 11 books per member.

Popular Magazines

But everybody, even the seniors and freshmen read the same magazines; they all look at the cartoons in the New Yorker; thumb the Readers Digest for an entertaining tidbit; raise an eyebrow at Time's itemized version of the news. Fortune ran a close fourth in the race for "entertaining" magazines. Almost half of the students read the New York Times and this same paper's book review magazine is perused by about 15% of its prospective readers. This report does not include books or periodicals in the science libraries.

Least Read

Strange to say, nobody reads Quoniam, Spektrum, The Southern Review and Common Ground. At least the last two magazines, together with The Yale Review, Thought and Foreign Affairs are periodicals of a general nature and should be read more widely. A recent issue of The Yale Review had such contributors to its pages as: Thornton Wilder, Julian Huxley and Louis Untermeyer. On the whole periodicals on philosophy, history, sociology and the classics are read by very few students. For example, The American Journal of Sociology was not even read occasionally by any student during the first semester. One student reads the Classical Quarterly regularly. The seniors are also the leaders in magazine reading but not by any large margin.

Popular Catholic Magazines

The most popular Catholic magazines in all years are: The Catholic Digest, American and Jesuit Missions. The Digest is read by 22% of the students. Average attendance in the reading room per day was 155 for the first semester. The librarian urges everyone to see what is in the library and not to hesitate in suggesting new books, which may prove interesting to the general reader. Alumni members are asked to return any books they may have borrowed from the library and have since forgotten.

"Malachy's Miracle" Adjudged Success

Jim McManus Landed For Title Performance In Comedy

Brian Doherty's Broadway hit, "Father Malachy's Miracle," enjoyed a successful Baltimore premiere, on Wednesday April 15th, when it was staged by the Masque and Rhapsody players of Loyola College in the Maryland Casualty Auditorium. Included in the audience of 550 people, who laughed their way through Father Malachy's predicament, were Chas. M. Cohn, president of the Gas and Electric Co.; Chester F. Morrow, Baltimore lawyer; Dr. Weglein, head of the public schools of Baltimore; and the directors of Baltimore's various school and amateur dramatic societies.

Jim McManus as Malachy

Father Malachy, a gray-haired, slightly melancholy Benedictine monk, who let his zeal for Christ's teachings run riot with his better judgment, was very ably portrayed by James K. McManus, '43. Mr. McManus, as the little Benedictine performs two miracles, thereby convincing a doubting Anglican clergyman (William Baris, '44) of the possibility of miracles, mollifies two irate men of the world, George Bleater (William Waters, '42) and James Shyman Bell (Donald Schmidt, '42), bests a Brooklyn promoter (Bernard Goldberg, '43) in a business deal, and then decides never to leave his monastery again.

Play A Satire

The play was a satire on certain types in the clergy. The excitable, subservient curate (Joseph Smith, '43), the domineering Canon (George Wm. McManus, '43), the flighty, blustering, Scotch bishop (Fred Dewberry, '43), and the bored, business-like, Italian Cardinal (Larry Knox, '44) all came in for their share of criticism. In this way the play pointed out defects which the clergy is in danger of picking up. It also showed the human side of the priest, which the laity is so apt to miss.

The simplicity of the scenery, a concession to the modern trend in plays, added to the task of the cast, but they were not found lacking. The entire performance was capable and pleasing and the cast as a whole was surprisingly good.

Naval Strategy of Wars Contrasted

The first meeting of the History Academy following the Easter vacation was held on Tuesday, April 21st. James R. Crook, '42, president of the society, analyzed the importance of the battle of Jutland. Mr. Crook explained how the daring German adventures were repulsed in the only naval engagement of the first World War. The major events of the battle were described in sequence.

The previous meeting featured a lecture on the history of Japanese diplomacy by Fr. Thomas P. Ward, S.J. moderator of the society. Fr. Ward compared the beginnings of Japanese advancement with their position in the world of today. Many points pertinent to the life of the race were reviewed, such as their religious beliefs, and nationalistic philosophy.

For "Strictly" Men's Fashions

Hochschild Kohn & Co.

COLLEGE CALENDAR

- Apr. 24—Debate with Georgetown in Library.
Baseball: Mt. St. Mary's at Emmitsburg.
Tennis: Mt. St. Mary's at Emmitsburg.
Golf: Georgetown at Washington.
- Apr. 25—Lacrosse: Washington and Lee at Evergreen.
- Apr. 27—Baseball: Hopkins at Evergreen.
- Apr. 28—Tennis: American U. at Washington.
- Apr. 29—Baseball: Western Maryland at Evergreen.
Golf: Western Maryland at Westminster.
Tennis: Western Maryland at Evergreen.
- May 1—Men's Club Lecture.
Accounting Club Lecture and Social in Library.
Baseball: Catholic University at Washington.
Tennis: Catholic University at Washington.
- May 2—Lacrosse: Hopkins at Homewood.
- May 5—Track: Gallaudet at Evergreen.
- May 7—Tennis: Hopkins at Evergreen.
- May 8—Jenkins Prize Debate in Library.
Baseball: Hopkins at Homewood.
Mason-Dixon Conference Track Meet at Hopkins.
- May 9—Scholarship Examination.
Baseball: Villanova at Philadelphia.
Mason-Dixon Conference Track Meet at Hopkins.
Lacrosse: C. C. N. Y. at New York.
- May 10—Parents' Day.
- May 13—Junior Prom.
- May 14—Baseball: Georgetown at Washington.
Tennis: Catholic University at Evergreen.

Open Letter From Fr. Rector

To Parents and Students:

The following is a copy of a Bulletin on Higher Education and National Defense issued by the American Council on Education.

College Men In Total War

The increasing tendency toward indiscriminate enlistment in the armed forces by college men and the social pressures seeming to cast aspersions on the able-bodied student who has not enlisted prompted the Committee on Military Affairs of the National Committee on Education and Defense to prepare and unanimously adopt the following statement.

"Shall I continue my education or enlist? Every college man feels the urgency of this question today. To every high school boy it stands as a fork in the road already in sight before him."

"Three courses of action are available to the college student: he may volunteer for the armed forces; he may accept employment in a civilian occupation; or he may continue in preparation for later service, military or otherwise."

"A college man who registers now may expect to be between twenty years three months and twenty-two years three months when called for induction—more than half will be above twenty-one years of age. By the present law, a man registers during his twentieth year. Thus, the average of registrants is twenty years six months. It takes about three months to prepare the lists for induction. Assuming quotas remain approximately the same, it requires a year to exhaust the lists through induction and this will mean from one to twelve additional months—an average of six. With the present accelerated program in the colleges, the majority of students can complete the requirements for the bachelor's degree before being called for induction."

"Finally, opportunities to procure officer status are available to enlisted men. Plans now announced by the Army call for the selection over the next year of 75,000 men to be sent to Officers' Candidate Schools. Only three months military experience is required prior to admission to such schools. The opportunity for the college trained man to become an officer through advancing from the ranks of the enlisted men is approximately as great as in the competitive plans offered as an inducement to volunteering. Other specialized schools in all arms of the service are also available to enlisted men selected for such training."

"No single factor should unduly influence a college man's decision. There are many complex factors to be carefully weighed not only in the light of immediate needs and opportunities, but also in the light of the continuity of the life and experiences of the individual, of long-range needs, and of the security and welfare of the nation."

I am sending the foregoing to you for the purpose of clarifying the Government's position with regard to students in college and those intending to enter. The Faculty at Loyola wishes to emphasize the importance of every boy consulting the College authorities before he takes any step relative to War Service.

Sincerely,

Edward B. Bunn, S.J.,
President.

ANNUAL ELECTION CAMPAIGN OPENS

Juniors Nominated For Post
Of President Of Council.

(Continued from Page 1, Col. 4) by the Dean, the Student Council, had a minimum average of 75% in his subjects in addition to the pre-mentioned petition which was circulated in his behalf.

It is not the purpose to present reasons either pro or con concerning the relative abilities of the men here, but students will hear more than one plea, threat or bribe in attempts by campaign managers to assure the election of the right man. Set forth here is a fragmentary report of the nominees' record. Beginning alphabetically, James K. McManus, an arts student, has interested himself in athletics as well as serving as President of the Masque and Rapper Society. George Miller, another arts man, places among the first five scholastically in his class besides work in journalism. Bernard Muth, science devotee, has been occupied with sodality work and various organizations supplementary to his course. William Thater, a second science student, has been active in sodality circles as well as the scientific organizations of Loyola.

As might be expected experienced athletes are conducting campaigns for the Athletic Association leadership. John Burns participates in basketball and golf. Bernard Goldberg plays basketball and runs the mile for the track team. Daniel Luechesi was a member of the pioneer ice hockey team and is a lacrosseman. Eugene Miles is another of Loyola's stickmen. Francis Mueller plays baseball and basketball and James O'Hare is a member of the wrestling team.

3413 Greenmount Ave.

UNiv. 0200

KIRKLEY'S

FLOWERS

Distinctive Corsages

FRANK BROWN DIES SERVING NATION IN NAVY AIR CORPS

(Continued from Page 1, Col. 2)

students in 1939. By the time he had completed both the primary and secondary courses of flight training, and less than a year after his graduation, he became a naval flying cadet, (March, 1941), at Pensacola, Florida.

Commissioned Last November

He received his commission as ensign at Miami in November, 1941, and was immediately sent to Norfolk, where he was stationed aboard an aircraft carrier. Since that time, he has made several visits to Baltimore, the last one being about a month ago. He left again for active duty on March 18th, and since then, no word had been received from him.

Yesterday morning, at ten A. M. a requiem mass was said in his memory, at SS. Philip and James Church. Another Mass is to be celebrated in the college chapel for the repose of his soul at 8:20 A.M. on April 27.

No one who knew Frank Brown will ever forget him. He had the spirit that pervades the halls of Loyola today. His patriotism was honest and sincere, and for this we shall always remember him.

HUTZLER'S
IS EQUIPPED TO SERVE
WELL-DRESSED
COLLEGE MEN

Shop in the Men's Furnishing Department and then take the Escalator to the Men's Clothing Department, Third Floor

HUTZLER BROTHERS ©

More Pleasure for You

There's satisfaction in knowing that the 6½¢ revenue tax you pay on every pack of twenty cigarettes is doing its bit for Uncle Sam

And you'll get complete smoking satisfaction in Chesterfield's famous blend of the world's best cigarette tobaccos. This superior blend is tops in everything you like best in a cigarette. It is definitely Milder, far Cooler and lots Better-Tasting. Try Chesterfields today. See why millions say: "You can't buy a better cigarette."

CAROLYN CASSIDY, Miss American Aviation. From coast to coast our country's air lines are playing a major part in National Defense. From coast to coast Chesterfield gives smokers more pleasure.

ON THE
NATION'S FRONT

It's Chesterfield

WHEREVER YOU FIND A BLUEJACKET YOU'LL FIND CHESTERFIELD. On PT-boat, sub or bottle-wagon, they give smokers a lot more pleasure.

MORE ARMS for AMERICA

We Pay More Than
$2,000,000 A WEEK
into the U. S. Treasury for the Tax Stamps necessary for one week's output of Chesterfields

Here's what this would buy
for defense in one year:

13 DESTROYERS
or
416 4-MOTORED
FLYING GUN BOATS
or
5,200 ANTI-AIRCRAFT
HEIGHT FINDERS

BUY U.S. DEFENSE BONDS
AND STAMPS TODAY

WE WILL WIN. We did it before and we'll do it again. Once a smoker has enjoyed Chesterfield's cooler, better taste he smokes them again and again.